Task 01:

Keyword Research:

Niche: Restaurants

Keyword research is the foundation of any SEO strategy. Before creating or optimizing any content, a business must understand exactly what its potential customers are searching for on Google

For this report, I researched keywords for a restaurant business based in Rawalpindi, Pakistan, using Google Trends, Ubersuggest.

My research revealed that 'desi food' is currently trending at +850% year-over-year in Pakistan, making it a high-priority keyword for any local food business.

The keyword 'restaurant' alone has 450K monthly searches but an SEO difficulty of 62 far too competitive for a new or local website. This confirms that long-tail, location specific keywords are the right strategy for a Rawalpindi restaurant.

Keyword Intent Categories Used:

- Informational: user wants to learn (e.g. 'what is desi food', 'how to make biryani') best targeted with blog content.
- Navigational: user wants to find a specific place (e.g. 'restaurant near me') best targeted on the homepage with Google Maps integration.
- Commercial: user is comparing options before visiting (e.g. 'best biryani in Rawalpindi') best targeted on menu and about pages.
- Transactional: user is ready to order or book (e.g. 'Food delivery Rawalpindi') best targeted on order and catering pages.

Keyword Difficulty Scale

- Easy (KD 0–25): ideal for new/local websites — realistic to rank within 3–6 months with good content.
- Medium (KD 26–45): achievable with consistent SEO effort over 6–12 months.
- Hard (KD 46+): dominated by national/international brands — avoid targeting directly as primary keywords.
